(Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second-class matter.)

WHEELING, JULY 11, 1890.

PERSONS going out of town for the summer can have the DAILY INTELLIGENCER mailed to them for 65 cents per month. The address of the paper will be changed as often as desired.

A damp sponge or handkerchief in the hat this weather is better than a brick.
 It is some satisfaction to know that people at the seashore are not wearing overcoats all the day long.

There are Bostonians who want to give Sullivan a bad reception in Faneuil Hall! What a profanation of a shrine!
 If you "can't get away," make the best of it. The fretful soul aggravates all the terrors of the high thermometer.

Persons who stood on the stone bridge watching the flood at Johnstown, New York, lost their lives when the bridge was swept away. If people had been standing on Wheeling's stone bridge a year ago when it went down, they would have gone with the bridge. Yet there are those who insist that we must replace the old stone bridge with a new stone bridge because stone bridges stand.

To the Public Defense.
 Unless Council moves intelligently and quickly some who are now living in Wheeling will, before the summer is ended, find elsewhere a residence as permanent as a rock. Whose fault will it be?

The Intelligencer thinks it will be the fault of public opinion, which, though right on this question, has not put on the pressure to make itself felt. It is remarkable that the people permit a few to fight for the defense of the homes of all.
 They would not be so inert if an enemy were encamped round about on the hills with guns pointed on the city. The unseen and unheeded enemy is a thousand times more to be dreaded.

Preserve the Health of the People.
 Now that we have the increase of the police force, cannot Council give us increased facilities for preserving the health and the lives of the people? The Second Branch appreciates the situation —what obscures the vision of the First Branch?

There is not a man or woman in the city of Wheeling at all conversant with the condition of affairs who does not know that something should be done at once to get rid of the frightful accumulation of garbage and night soil.

The people are neither so ignorant nor so indifferent that they are willing to allow the present condition to continue through the summer. We may escape pestilence; and we may regret that we did not stop everything else and go ahead on the line of the public safety.

Immediate orders should be given for the construction of the new crematory; and immediate steps should be taken to remove all the garbage in the city, as a preliminary step to having all the offal removed every day thereafter throughout the summer months, when the law requires daily removal.

Christian Science and Its High Priestess.
 Mrs. Mary Bently Worthington, High Priestess of Christian Science, favors the Intelligencer with a copy of her International Magazine. The High Priestess has lately added Worthington to her name as the result of changing husbands. After living eighteen years with one man she found "the one who was forever myself," and forthwith proceeded to get rid of number one and take up with number two.

The followers of the High Priestess have wanted to know about this and they are keeping her busy explaining.
 She says she did what she did "because eternal justice demanded it, in the interest of betrayed, debauched womanhood and enforced, unwelcome motherhood." She says also that she has "already a nucleus of brave, splendid girls who are earnest Christian Scientists, and who have decided to devote their lives to the service of Christian healing and teaching. They have stood by me in this struggle like brave young warriors, etc."

We are sorry for these "brave, splendid girls." If they follow the example of their High Priestess, what kind of wives and mothers shall they be? This same Christian Science has been thought to be only an arrant humbug. Its High Priestess shows her conception of it to be something very much worse.

Politics in the Public Schools.
 It seems that we have not in West Virginia and in the city of Wheeling enough politics to satisfy certain Democratic appetites for that sort of thing.
 The Democratic bugle sounds a charge on the public school system, which hitherto has been conspicuously free from the debasement of political maneuvering. An effort is to be made to oust one, probably two, possibly more, teachers because they are Republicans.

Mr. John Birch is a good illustration of the way Republicans did these things when they were in control of the Board of Education. Mr. Birch was known to be an uncompromising Democrat. He was also known to be a good man for the highest place on the Board of Education to bestow, that of Superintendent of the whole public school system of Wheeling.
 While Mr. Birch was Superintendent he was captain of the Young Men's Democratic Club, in which organization, as in all party matters, he took a keen and active interest.

It was Mr. Birch who arranged and carried to success the big demonstration in honor of Mr. Hendricks, the Democratic nominee for the Vice Presidency.
 For his party services Mr. Birch was made Consul to Nagasaki. No Republican had ever thought of ousting Mr.
 Birch for being an "offensive partisan" and displaying "pernicious activity." If Mr. Birch had not been rewarded by his party for party services he would have remained Superintendent of the public schools of Wheeling, no matter how great a majority the Republicans might have had in the Board of Education.

If it can be shown that any teacher's interest in the political party with which he acts impairs his efficiency in school work, the people will not only interpose no objection to his displacement, but will demand that he give way to one more mindful of his public obligations. Unless this can be shown, and shown very clearly, the people of Wheeling will hold to very strict account that political party which shall start the public school system of this city on the down-grade of political huckstering.

PEARSON'S ESTATE.

Hiram Pearson's Fortune and How He Obtained It.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., July 10.—Elliott J. Moore, of this city, who was one of the executors of Hiram Pearson's will and guardian of young Pearsons, who was drowned at Chicago last Sunday night, said in an interview that the value of Pearson's estate would probably be the neighborhood of a million dollars, but he could not say positively, as it was a number of years since he had anything to do with it. It has increased materially since Hiram Pearson's death.
 During the past three years the deceased had been actively engaged in mining operations, in which he was fortunate. The elder Pearsons went to Cairo, and there planned to build a rival city on the Missouri river, but about that time gold was discovered in California and he came here where his operations were marked by great enterprise. Twenty-five years ago he was probably one of the richest men in California.

Three Dead Injokes.

A FRIEND INJURED.

First New York Club Man—Cholly, if I ever die will you make sure, my dear fellow, that I am really dead before I'm buried?
 Second New York Club Man—You can rely on me, Fweddy. I'll ask you to take a drink before the undertaker sews down the lid.
 Thwanks, Cholly, awfully thwanks.

TRAINING FOR HIS CAUSE.

Chicago Herald—Swell Boy—"Feel that muscle, Charley." Dude—"Good gracious! How did you get it?"
 "Gymnasium. Dumbbells, sand-bags, Indian clubs, and all that sort of thing, you know."
 "Why, Willie! What do you want to get up your muscle for? You're no fighter!"
 "Dear boy, I've heard from London that canes will be larger than ever.
 Don't you see? I'm in training for them."

IN DEEP MOURNING.

Dreadful! I fancy you feel pretty dreadfully over the death of young annie.
 Gustum—Yess, I will have my new mourning to-morrow; have something entirely new in the way of mourning, y'know.
 "Tell a fellow, do."
 "Little band of crapes around my cigarettes."
 "Gad! I wish some of my relatives would explain. Dashed if I don't try it."

Sticking to the Point.
 Cleveland Plain Dealer.
 A gentleman in this town had a very bright but droll little boy. The other day the little fellow feigned sleep. His father came and shook him gently.
 He remained motionless and silent. He shook him harder and would have waked a sleeping person. No movement; no noise. The boy thought he was acting natural. The father threw a drop of water in his eye. Not a wince.
 He remained motionless and silent. He threw him on a bed. The boy slept on.
 Soon his mother asked him why he said nothing when his father shook him.
 "Too I was asleep," he answered.

A Philadelphia Complaint.
 Philadelphia Times.
 Many persons have written the Times for the exact meaning and proper pronunciation of the term megalomania.
 The derivation of the word was given in yesterday's issue. It is from mega, Greek, head, and mania, fever, and its literal meaning is "big head fever," the proper pronunciation of the term is me-gal-o-ma-ni-a. It is a subject that every man of ambition, old and young, should study.

 a leaf of a book in order to find the place.
 Other turn down the street of a city for the same purpose.
 COLN, coffee, is what philosophers term "a logical sequence." One is very liable to follow the other; but by curbing the cold with a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the cough will be stopped and the coffee not needed—just at present.
 Mr. L. M. GERRARD, of Vicksburg, Miss., says that his wife was poisoned with nicotine from the excessive use of tobacco in smoking cigarettes. He could not sleep, his appetite was gone, and he was in a bad fix generally. He took S. S.
 S., which drove out the poison and made a new man of him.

FASHION PADS AND FANCIES.

Tan and russet shoes grow in fashion and favor.
 The yoke bodice is the favorite for white waist goods.

Maize or corn color is revived among other fashionable shades of yellow.
 Even gingham dresses have the parosol made up of the material of the gown.
 Reseda green is one of the most popular shades of this still very fashionable color.

Pongee in natural buff colors is as popular as ever for summer gowns and traveling wraps.
 Pompadour foulards rival other printed stuffs for summer morning and afternoon toilets.

White mousseline de soie makes the most exquisite and ethereal of all white summer festival frocks.
 Dotted white mull, Swiss and veiling gowns are in vogue, along with striped and white bordered dresses.
 Entire dresses of red satens trimmed with erlures are worn at French country houses and on the seashore.

Handkerchiefs are tiny, dainty marvels of color and embroidery this summer, and at the moment are very cheap.
 Seaside purses are large and mostly in bright colors, sometimes softened with covers or falls of cream and lace.

Pale ivory gray gowns with panels, surplus waistcoats and revers, cuffs and collars of tan color are very handsome and attractive.
 Butterflies made of colored, dyed or painted tulle, large as life and mounted on spiral wires, are one of the decorations of summer hats of lace, tulle, net and crepe.

The hats chosen for out-of-door entertainments have very low crowns, but wide brims projecting over the forehead and tapering to almost nothing in the back and at the sides.
 Black lace toilets are as fashionable as ever, but they are now made up in combination with black velvet, and sometimes with green or purple velvet, but not with red or blue.

White China silk with silver passementeries and sometimes with gold-dotted embroidery, large as life and mounted on spiral wires, are one of the decorations of summer hats of lace, tulle, net
 and crepe.

A CONDITION of weakness of body and mind which results from many disorders of the system finds its best and surest relief in Brown's Iron Bitters. As it enriches and strengthens the blood, no the stomach, liver and kidneys receive power to perform their duties, and the depressed condition of these organs are removed.
